

DANIELLE LAPORTE

---

Danielle LaPorte has a son who is about to turn 13, yet she says her life still works around his schedule. She is divorced and co-parents.

What do you think about mom guilt?

Mom guilt is unavoidable. It does have its utility. It does help me to compare how I mother him and how I was parented. They're gonna be okay.

The resilience of the human race is pretty profound, and I don't think we need to put so much pressure on ourselves.

I think the soul perspective really helps. Your child chose you.

How has your business influenced your mothering and how has your mothering influenced your business?